

Who we are

A European platform of national & regional waterway authorities & organisations promoting waterway transport

- An independent platform, without commercial interests since 2000
- We bring all key waterway players together to actively advocate EU initiatives, which make waterways easier to use for freight and people.

Our mission & agenda

Europe's network of navigable rivers and canals links up ports, urban and industrial centres. With more and better waterway transport, we want to strengthen an effective alternative for congested transport.

We strongly believe in a multimodal Europe with waterways as backbone to make mobility & logistics less carbon-intensive at the service of European industry and society.

Our policy agenda covers

- a quality cross-border waterway infrastructure network with good multimodal access
- effective digital inland waterway services to facilitate seamless, sustainable and safe transport & logistics
- facilitation of a long-term policy rewarding future-oriented innovation

What we do

- exchange national & regional knowledge & best practice and mount common projects
- discuss EU policies and proactively advocate EU initiatives and measures which make waterways more attractive and easier to use
- provide access to an extensive network of EU and national contacts
- promote and demonstrate the economic and societal benefits of waterway transport
- listen to and consult users, clients & stakeholders of waterway transport in Europe on needs & concerns and cooperate around topics of common interest

Our achievements

- a specific EU policy for the development of waterway transport (Naiades 1 & 2) and the support of the Council and European Parliament for a new 2021-2027 programme
- all dedicated EU international waterways designated as EU core infrastructure to ensure good infrastructure quality by 2030
- integration of good navigation status in TEN-T to ensure the quality and reliability of existing infrastructure
- EU co-financing up to 50% for EU waterway infrastructure works
- a framework directive to harmonise the cross-border deployment of River Information Services (RIS)
- a strategic research agenda for inland waterways & ports
- EU co-financing up to 50% to ensure RIS implementation
- introduction of low-sulphur fuel for waterway vessels
- extension of 'de minimis' rule to inland waterway transport to facilitate state aid

Why join?

Part of a strong network

With INE you join a dynamic network of European waterway colleagues to exchange national & regional experience and best practice, debate success and failure, pool resources & ideas and work on joint projects.

United voice in Brussels

75% of all national transport legislation has its origin in the EU. With INE you team up with European colleagues and you can directly dialogue with EU institutions about initiatives and proposals to support waterway policies at home.

Access to information

As a member you receive regular news updates and access to an information database of EU initiatives, legislation, funding opportunities & events which have an impact on waterways and shipping and matter for your activities.

Active promotion

In INE you find a European wide channel to promote your actions, best practice and projects to better advocate waterways.

Why Agenzia Interregionale per il Fiume PO became a member

"It's fundamental for us to dialogue with European partners, to understand what our colleagues do and what is their approach to solve waterway problems. With INE's coordination strategies we are in touch with European Commission strategies and informed about the future of waterways."

Marcello Moretti, Agenzia Interregionale per il Fiume PO

Why viadonau co-founded INE

"Promotion of inland waterway transport is an important task on our agenda. As a driving force for the development of transport on the Danube we strongly believe in cooperation and we appreciate the joining of forces with peer organisations in other European countries."

Gert-Jan Muilerman, viadonau
